Subject: Information Update for Gold King Mine Release

Good morning. I've been reading statements attributed to EPA in the press, such as in the article below, but none of this is reflected on the EPA OSC website. My members are the large urban water suppliers on the Colorado River, and we would like to know how far the contamination has gotten and how far it is expected to go.

Can you provide any information, and is there a source other than the EPA OSC site we should be monitoring? Also, are there any press conferences planned?

Thank you.

Regards,

Michael
